

SECRET

11 April 1963

MEMORANDUM

SUBJECT: Possible Storage of Offensive Missiles at Ermita, Cuba

1. There is a surface-to-air missile site, which is one of our regular targets for high-altitude photography, located about four and a half miles northeast of the Ermita sugar refinery in Oriente Province.
2. The SA-2, the surface-to-air missile being used in Cuba, is more than thirty feet long and might easily be mistaken for a long-range missile by an observer unfamiliar with Soviet missiles.

SECRET